

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

The Frijole Jugando suffered a severe case of heart break this morning.

A queer animal, faintly resembling a dog, but shaped much more like a bear, appeared at his home.

It was a small beast with slick fur and contrasting ears.

That is to say, his ears were far from smooth. Each ear was long and dragging and covered with silky curly fur.

In that way he resembled an elephant, but the chances are that he was a dog.

He was immediately christened "Ears" and welcomed in to have breakfast.

But not by the Frijole.

After various demonstrations of spitting, hissing and feline precatancy, the Frijole let his fur down again and settled down to watchful waiting.

He stalked about the house keeping just about a yard behind "Ears."

The whole procedure made the alleged pup very nervous.

"Ears" was ready to be friends share his food and his corner with the rabid cat.

Eventually Frijole discouraged the interloper in his happy home.

Ears decided the weather was much better outside.

And outside he is staying.

Now Frijole has his nose back in joint and is extra-special comforted with the house.

He walks about the rooms lifting his feet high, admiring each piece of furniture and marveling at the softness of each cushion.

His eyes are no longer reproachful, but his nature has absorbed a bit of suspicion.

He will never again face what he has realized to be a cruel world with his former trusting heart.

FRUIT STRIKE QUIETS DOWN

FRESNO, Aug. 17.—UP—Strike troubles in California fruit orchards and vegetable fields appeared to be nearing a settlement tonight, despite the assertion of walkout leaders that some 8,000 workers were ready to join the strike movement for higher wages.

Orchard managers and strike leaders denied each other's statements today regarding the number of workers now employed picking of peaches. Higher wages were promised on two of the largest ranches, and state authorities entered the controversy as mediators, seeking to influence all other orchard owners to raise the wage scale and end the strikes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—UP—Strike difficulties in California orchards have caused only a "very small" loss of No. 1 peaches, according to leading canning officials.

The walkouts have been localized, Preston McKinney, manager of the California Canners' League, pointed out, and no general curtailment of the crop was expected.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 17.—UP—Peach picking progressed quietly today, with strikers, under provisions of an anti-picketing injunction, restrained from interfering with workers who remained on the job.

Orchardists obtained the injunction after strikers curtailed harvesting for two days. Five hundred workers left their jobs, but the walkout did not handicap the harvest to a serious extent.

Giacome Rosare, 46, and Emelina Sandonigi, 30, both of San Pablo, applied for a marriage license in Oakland yesterday.

CROCKETT ANGLER DIES AT SEA Citizens Rally To NRA Call

HUGE ARMY OF WORKERS HASTENS TO LEND HAND

Military precision in organizing the NRA forces of Richmond marked the work of leaders yesterday.

Taking each step carefully and making them all count, the organizers under the leadership of John A. Miller, postmaster, felt satisfied last night that this city would soon be functioning 100 percent along the lines desired by President Roosevelt.

Yesterday's advancement saw the formation of an advisory board, a unit in the general plan which will guide the work of all subordinate officers, such as majors, captains, lieutenants and what not.

List Not Complete

The board members listed below does not by any means complete the number of workers to be named. In this regard, Miller announced that a special invitation is to be issued to lodges, service clubs, civic clubs, labor groups, churches, Parent-Teachers, and other groups for volunteers.

Division majors and captains are to be named by Gifford Douglas, "Colonel" of the "army," also a group of speakers by James N. Long; publicity assistants by Fred Newsum, and educational workers by G. E. Milnes.

The advisory board members selected to date are:

James A. McVittie, chairman, Miss Viola Cox, Walter Johnson, Henry Greger, C. E. Finney, T. Emmett Ward, W. P. Drumme, Martin Hauge, Mrs. Fred LaMoine, Mrs. Mattie Chandler, Mrs. Rose Mahanni, Mrs. J. F. Maloney, Felix Uslis, R. H. Bergen, Ray Craycroft, Gordon Perault, Mrs. Margaret Allyn, Clark Barker, John Moscrop, Dr. A. J. Case, Rev. Michael Crotty, P. M. Sanford, A. A. Hughes.

Fine Spirit Shown

Organization of the NRA army in Richmond is being taken up with genuine zest by all loyal citizens, according to Miller.

"Nothing so stirring and spectacular since the wartime days of 1917 has been attempted in this country," said Miller, today. For example, we are planning to make a house to house and block by block canvass throughout the entire country. It certainly means tremendous organization effort to carry out such an undertaking but the objective is well worth the effort.

"Of course," continued Miller, "it would not be possible to carry out such an enormous task without systematic planning backed up by characteristic American enthusiasm. You know, there is just nothing beyond the power of the people of this country, once they catch the spirit of the thing and decide to put it over."

Maps Program

"Now, as to the way this big drive has been mapped out by the National Recovery Administration. In the first place, the organization has been set up along military lines, for if ever there was a war and a righteous one, it is this master offensive unemployment. Heading the work in each state are a state chairman, and a state women chairman, both appointed by the Governor of the state. These two, in addition to the chairman of the committees (Continued on Page 6)

New Issue

AS PART of the Harbor Day celebration there was an 'unveiling' in San Francisco the other day of the new dress hat, which will be part of what the well dressed sailor will wear.

Navy Men Cuss Over New Lids; They're Awful!

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—UP—One San Francisco sailor is waiting one minute and bawling the next as they consider the new type of head gear that must be worn by Jack Tar beginning Jan. 1, 1934.

They had heard about the new hats, but had not seen them, until today, when, as a part of a harbor day celebration honoring the fleet, the junior chamber of commerce unveiled a custom-built model of the new headgear.

The sailors gasped in horror, then began laughing and cursing, alternately.

Instead of the dinky white caps now in vogue, which may be perched on the back of the head, or over one ear, or down one eye, or pulled into almost any shape, they gazed upon a blue affair that looks like a combination of what the French, German and English sailors wear.

It has a rake at the crown and a flare at the sides. It cannot be twisted out of its original shape. It cannot be tilted down over one eye, or perched on back of the head. It has an "S" Navy emblem blazoned across the front.

Sight of it nearly spoiled the day for the gobs.

Fire At Martinez Is Mostly Smoke

MARTINEZ, Cal. Aug. 17.—UP—Fire which started in an open sump filled with waste oil created a sensation here today before it was learned that the blaze was more spectacular than dangerous.

Dense clouds of smoke rolled over the Shell Oil company plant, making it appear the entire oil layout was threatened.

Workers, however, confined the blaze to the sump. Damage was negligible.

Winehaven Crash Damages Machines

Charles Bailey of 425 South Forty-fifth street and Henry R. Alsiee of the Hayward apartments, Berkeley, collided last evening on the Winehaven road north of the quarry.

Both machines received slight damage.

Rodeo Man Victim Of Bad Heart

An overnight mystery was solved late last evening when the body of a bus passenger was identified as Jay Lazarus, about 70, of Redco.

The man had dropped dead in Oakland Wednesday evening as he stepped from an automobile, after he had boarded at either Torrey or Rodeo.

Authorities began an investigation but could find in his clothing no clue to his name or residence.

Initials On Ting

A plain gold ring bearing the initials "J. L." provided the only item by which he could be traced.

The driver of the bus supplied the information that he had gotten on the bus either at Torrey or Rodeo. He had not noticed anything untoward in his passenger's behavior on the trip.

As Lazarus started to descend from the vehicle he suddenly collapsed and was pronounced dead by physicians called to the scene.

Lazarus had lived in Redco for about 20 years. He was a retired employee of the Union Oil company.

His neighbors and acquaintances knew little of his history and no living relatives can be found.

Mother Is Accused of Baby Death

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—UP—The second alleged infanticide in a week caused Mrs. Mary Sears, 24, a native of New Hampshire, to be placed under technical arrest at an emergency hospital today.

Her newly born baby was found strangled to death in a downtown hotel room.

Discovery of the body and arrest of Mrs. Sears resulted from Dr. R. B. Spaulding's report that he told him her child was born prematurely and she had disposed of it. She insisted the baby died accidentally.

Earlier in the week, Frank W. Paduan, Jr., 21, physical culture instructor, was arrested and charged with the murder of his illegitimate month-old daughter.

Negro Woman Is Held by County

Stella Burney, alias Wright, has been moved to Martinez and is being held there in lieu of $2000 bail.

She is charged with receiving stolen goods in burglaries perpetrated by William Wright alias Steele, wounded Richmond thief suspect.

Wright who is still in the county hospital from gunshot wounds inflicted by a local officer is said to have confessed to 21 Richmond burglaries and nine in Oakland.

The confession was made to Chief of Police L. E. Jones and Inspector George Bengley.

Wright is quoted as having said: "There may be more but I can't remember them."

Neighbor Folk Of Lamson Will Be On Defense

SAN JOSE, Aug. 17.—UP—Four women who visited the Lamson home shortly after Mrs. Allen Lamson was found dead will be important witnesses in the defense of David A. Lamson during his trial which starts Monday. It was in deeded today.

They will be asked to testify concerning Lamson's mental attitude at the time his wife's body was found in the bathroom of their San Jose campus home last Memorial Day.

In previous hearings, Mrs. Helen Vincent, a neighbor who talked with Lamson over the back fence that morning, testified he betrayed nothing unusual in his actions.

Mrs. L. H. Place, real estate agent who called at the home a few minutes before Lamson cried out that his wife had been murdered, said he was not a bit nervous before he reported the discovery.

Mrs. Alfred Raas, a prospective tenant who accompanied Mrs. Place told how he cried "My God, my wife has been murdered," as he opened the front door to let them in, after talking with Mrs. Place in the yard.

Mrs. Ruford Brown, neighbor and friend who was among the first to view the scene of the tragedy, said Lamson fell face downward "in a faint" after seeing his wife's body in the bathtub.

These four women will testify as the defense attorneys to show the great change that came over Lamson after the death of his wife became known.

Meanwhile, although curious to question a negro informant who was said to have "spied" on the killing, Mrs. Lamson, the sheriff's office, discounted the story and clung to its belief Lamson accidentally killed his wife after a quarrel.

Capitol Man Is Indifferent To Murder Charges

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—UP—Displaying marked indifference to the proceedings on his possible fate, Ray Mann, 21, ordered held for trial on charges of slaying Helen Lee, Sacramento adolescent.

He assertedly confessed killing the young woman at a deserted farmhouse near Roseville. He gave no reason for his alleged act.

His attorney indicated he would plead "not guilty by reason of insanity."

Jail Warden Ends Life; 300 Escape

GUANTANAMO, Cuba, Aug. 17.—UP—Army units aided prison guards today to round up 300 prisoners in the local jail who escaped in a mutiny last midnight. Guards fired on the fleeing prisoners, wounding many, but failed to break up the mutiny.

The city was surrounded and many recaptured, but the others remained at large. The United States has a naval depot here.

Lieutenant Manuel Larrea, warden in the Guantanamo prison, committed suicide because of the whole-sale escape.

'BIG ANTON' DRIFTS INTO SHORE AT MENDOCINO

Anton J. ("Crockett") Anderson, stormy petrel of the fishing industry in Contra Costa and San Francisco bay area, is dead.

Anderson, known as "Big Anton," died at sea off the Mendocino coast.

His body drifted into Shelter Cove in an earless skiff late yesterday. Fishermen made the discovery, and cornered's deputies left Eureka at once for the long trip to bring the remains "back to civilization."

Victim of Ghosts!

Did the ghosts of two game wardens slain by Anderson in 1930, finally "do him in?"

That is the question rippling over salty lips of old-time fishermen in Crockett, Martinez, Pittsburg and other Contra Costa county "ports," where Anton was to be found when not out on a fishing expedition.

Anderson was a free lance man of the sea and known to be "bad" if crossed.

Memorable Day

Through a fog-draped dawn on May 1, 1930, the giant fisherman drove his boat inconspicuously named after "Ruth Roland," the movie actress, into port.

The craft bore evidence of a desperate battle, as dead as any fought by pirates on the Spanish Main.

Behind the Ruth Roland, Anderson towed two small boats. On the cabin roof of his own boat sprawled two grotesque figures—dead men.

The wheelhouse was riddled with bullets and there were six guns in the cockpit.

Two Men Killed

The dead men were Allen G. Curry, 29, 1334 Van Ness avenue, a deputy fish and game warden, and Jack Burke, 48, 298 Vista Grande avenue, Daly City, a former game warden.

They had been shot to death. He stood in a puddle of blood while he docked the three ghastly boats on their grim cargo, and collapsed on the wharf.

Anderson alone could tell the story of what had happened during the night off the San Mateo county shore.

The two wardens had come aboard, he said, and arrested him and confiscated his nets. They told him he had been fishing illegally.

The administration also began consideration of a code submitted by the California retail lumbermen's association, banning unfair trade practices.

Further Explanation of Appendicitis and Treatment Thereof

THE reasons for appendicitis are always interesting, but many causes are accepted which are physiologically impossible.

For a long time, the grape seed was the popular "goat" when it came to the truth, the cavity isn't large enough to admit a seed. The only seeds of any kind I ever found were the very tiny seeds of a grass.

when an otherwise reputable nurse is supposed to have reported finding a teaspoonful of granite ware chips in the offended organ. The real cause is some kink or obstruction that prevents the natural mucous discharge of the appendix from emptying into the large intestine or any inflammation in its particular area that shuts off its blood supply. This means a decaying membrane and instantly the white corpuscles of the blood come trooping in to meet the bacteria which are always present in the colon. This means more inflammation and more pus and for a time more pain. Just here we may be easily misled.

THE nerves that have been cutting the news of this pain are cut off along with the blood vessels, the patient may have sudden relief and think it better. Nature will try to help by throwing up a wall of defense around the pus generating tissues. If this is successful, the case may quiet down and the patient will say "congratulations." That's the time I fooled the doctor. If, however, the sloughing sac gives way, the poison pours out into the intestinal cavity and the whole field is quickly infected. Here is the danger. The abscess fills up with gas and becomes quite rigid. Intense pain is the rule. Everything that is swallowed is likely to come up. If operative measures have been postponed up to this time for life's sake, don't attempt surgery at this point.

THE best the surgeon can do now is to go in with the minimum caution and cut up drainage to ease the strain. The patient must be given time to lose some temperature and recover some strength before he is fit for complete operation. Much has been said about the use of cathartics in abdominal pain. Most of us naturally think of trying to clean out the area concerned in any attack of acute distress involving the bowels. The pain of appendicitis is likely to be referred at first to almost any or every spot but if the appendix is really to blame the seat of distress is bound to be localized within the first twenty-four hours.

THE appendicitis victim does not lie on his side but on his back with the knees drawn up. He will object to having his legs straightened out because of the tension over the region of the appendix. To give a cathartic in a suspected case of appendicitis is to add to the pressure on the sac and increase the danger of rupture. A warm soap suds enema will relieve the bowels of waste and gas and ease the pain until diagnosis is completed.

AS TO surgical interference, the wise surgeon moves quickly but quickly or waits with the same careful judgment. No better estimate can be given of the possibilities of surgery in assured appendicitis than to quote Dr. Robertson's figures as given in the article referred to yesterday in "Hygia" for July. His figures apply specifically to children but the general adult case would follow much the same percentage. "Operation within twenty-four hours on onset, 95 per cent recover. Operation within forty-eight hours of onset, 80 per cent recover. Operation after forty-eight hours, no operation. The percentage is normal." The consideration of health, energy, and means will be found in prompt diagnosis and equally prompt action.

The Gift Plant

If you receive a beautiful plant from the greenhouse or florist's shop, put it immediately in a tub filled with water high enough to cover the whole pot and dirt surrounding the plant. After bubbles appear in the water, take the plant out and then place it where you will. A plant will last twice as long if given this treatment immediately.

BEAUTY HINTS FOR VACATIONS DURING AUGUST

By JACQUELINE HUNT

SEARCHING for beauty is a thrilling and romantic pursuit—and it is never more exciting than in August when so many city-bound business girls are slipping away for their vacation and for their first real dose of water and sun. August vacations are fun—days filled with outings and sports and dancing and canoeing in the moonlight for romance.

MRS. HUNT

Late vacations have one drawback, however. They are usually such hurried affairs that it is impossible to get your skin gradually accustomed to the unusual exposure and as a result you are apt to spend some uncomfortable hours after driving in the sun, dust and wind, or taking your first swim—unless you are a wise woman who has stocked up on a lot of helpful cosmetics.

If you want to preserve as much tan as possible in your limited time to prove that you have been away, then use a good layer of foundation cream especially made to prevent tanning and burning and the generous amount of powder. And don't forget the broad-brimmed hat when you lounge in the sun.

If, in spite of all your precautions, your skin becomes flushed from exposure to the sun and what if it is wise to use a cooling lotion to soothe the irritation before you give it a final cleansing with warm water and a carefully selected non-drying complexion soap. Then apply a second cooling film of lotion.

For cases of real sunburn, mix yourself a lotion of equal parts of lime water and linseed oil. You can get these ingredients at any drugstore. Put the lotion gently over the fiery spots. It is a thick mixture and it will be several minutes before the skin absorbs it. As it disappears, apply more. When the final coating remains on the skin, remove it gently with tissues and the treatment is complete. There are also soothing salves that can be used to relieve painful cases of sunburn.

Do not apply powder immediately after treating the skin for sunburn. When you are treating your skin for sunburn—or when you are applying your protective cosmetics—remember the V-shaped area on your chest that is exposed more than other parts by the open collar or neckline of your blouse. And do watch out for burned shoulders when you go swimming. Burned shoulders are unlovely at any time and they are apt to be painfully embarrassing when you make your next appearance in your evening gown.

There are other tips for late vacationists—things to take along in your vacation bag—what to do when you get to the beach or resort where you will spend your vacation—how to be romantic with lots of things. I'll tell you about some more of them tomorrow.

MODES AND MANNERS

QUESTION: "Should a boy or a girl make the first move toward visits at the girl's home?"—Virginia S.

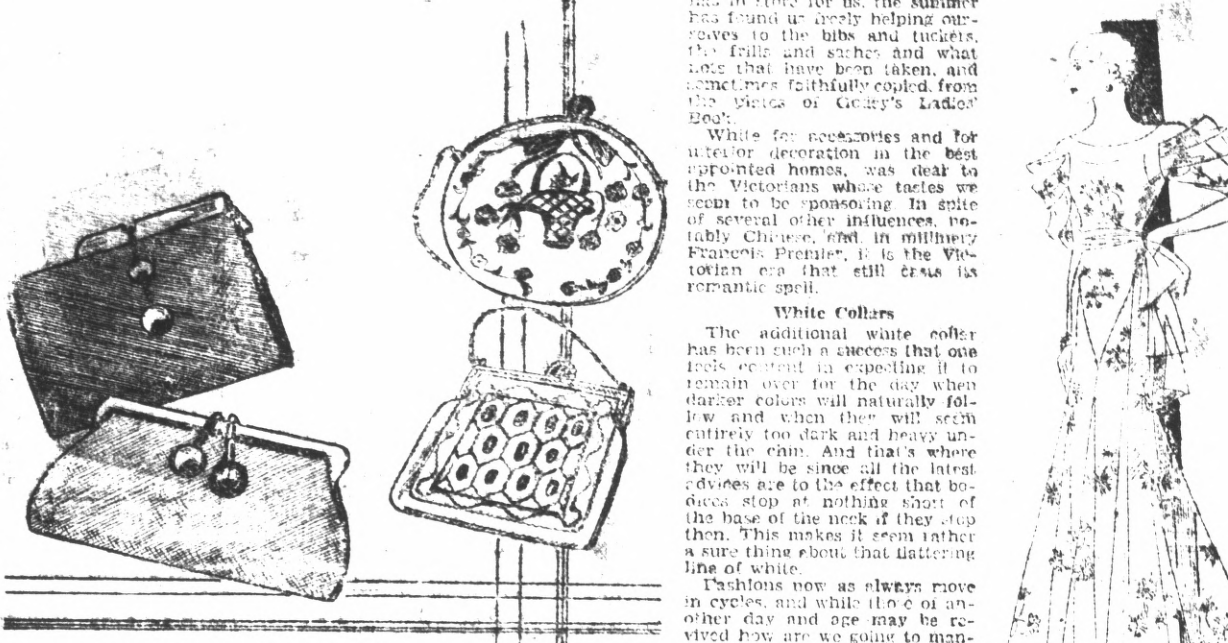

ANSWER: The suggestion may come from either. A young man may ask to be invited or, if the young woman would like a certain young man to call, the invitation may come from her.

QUESTION: "Does the well-dressed woman always wear gloves to complete the costume? Or are there exceptions to this rule, as in warm weather?"—L. P.

ANSWER: On the street and when traveling, gloves are correct. In the country and when dressed for sports, gloves should be worn only when needed as a protection for the hands. When taking a long trip on a train or ship, gloves are unnecessary, as the train or ship is one's temporary abode. With evening dress it is sometimes fashionable to wear long gloves, especially if the dress is very low-cut. However, the gloves should be removed when the dress is discarded.

A Hunch About Farmers Comes True ... Summer Welles Aids Cuba

GEORGE S. MILNOR never lived on a farm in his life, yet he has devoted the better part of his life to farm and farmers.

About a year ago the country was down in the depths of gloom following the Farm Board's loss of $110,000,000 in the wheat valorization plans. Mr. Milnor, who as head of the Farmers National Grain Corporation participated in that loss, stubbornly insisted that the folks who tilled the soil would make a quick comeback. His contention caused much people to snicker.

Now that the farmer is being relieved of some of his afflictions and is enjoying some measure of good fortune, Mr. Milnor glows. This is the same Mr. Milnor who was somewhat irked when Senators Norris and Wheeler argued about his salary of $30,000 per year as head of the National Grain Corporation.

Mr. Milnor's first job was with the Sparks Milling Company, of Alton, Illinois, twenty years ago. He applied himself and was made president of the firm some years after having served in every minor position with the milling company. He resigned this post to become president of the Farmers National Grain Corporation at the organization of the Food Administration.

In his new position, this thin, quiet man, who refuses to be photographed, handled more than $100,000,000 worth of wheat for the government. He is a dreamer of old. And that is some record to beat.

Joseph Leiter, who died in April, 1932, at the age of 63, was the son of Levi Z. Leiter, of Peoria, Illinois. Leiter, who began life as a country store clerk, Young Leiter had no sooner returned from a trip abroad after his college career, than his father gave him $1,000,000 in cash and a free rein to start the Leiter business. He showed ability and was made agent for his father's estate and when he attended his father's funeral, he carried more than $30,000,000 of the Leiter property was used to control the wheat market.

After the collapse of the wheat market, Young Leiter engaged in many enterprises. He was involved in a plan to buy the Great Wall of China and to use it for posterity. The city of Zurich, in the midst of the Leiter coal properties in Southern Illinois, was founded by him.

CUBA has been in the news lately for something more than its resort city of Havana. The most interesting reports from this little island for which the United States went to war in 1932 was the announcement that President Machado has issued a decree restoring constitutional guarantees and signed an amnesty bill to free all political prisoners.

To the Cuban people, who had been under military rule since December, 1930, deprived of the rights of free speech, free assembly, habeas corpus and a free press, the restoration of the constitutional guarantees was a great relief and strengthened their faith in the mediation program now being carried on.

Although the constitutional guarantees had been restored everywhere except in Havana Province on Dec. 1, 1932, this was a mere gesture by the Machado regime, as the military supervisors continued to usurp civil authority and soldiers remained in control.

These sweeping steps mark another important effort made by Ambassador Sumner Welles to help mediate and untangle the complex Cuban political situation.

Sumner Welles is the son of Benjamin Welles, one of the most famous beaux of the days of Ward McAllister. His wife is the daughter of Mrs. Richard Townsend, long a reigning dowager of Newport. The Welles residence in Washington is one of the most brilliant of the capital salons.

Ambassador Welles followed in President Roosevelt's footsteps through Groton and Harvard. He entered the diplomatic service in 1918. He is considered an authority on Latin-American affairs having been in charge of Latin-American relations during the administration of President Wilson. Before going to Cuba he was Assistant Secretary of State.

MARRIAGE HAS NO MAGIC, IT'S A SERIOUS JOB

By MARIAN MAY'S MARTIN

IT is your modernist's habit to take everything apart in order to find out, if possible, what makes it tick, or function, according to its mission. Intimately curiously is not to be derided, but when he has taken apart the theory that there are some things one must, and should, take on faith?

TAKE marriage as an example. For countless ages it has been Nature's plan, call it the "Divine Plan" if you feel so inclined, to mate. It says of marriage in the service most generally used, "first was ordained for the protection of children." Even suppose that you find other good reasons for marriage than the one above stated, we have to admit that the reason given is reason enough. Why not accept it? Our fathers and mothers did, and their fathers and mothers admit they did not make the sorry mess of marriage that this generation, with all its research and its doubting after the why and wherefore, have made of it. Isn't it just possible that in trying to pinch the job, the knowers from the crowd up, we are doing more harm than good as well as not really making a good job of marriage at all?

Tasty Dishes for Today

TRY CAFETERIA STYLE MEALS

By JUDITH WILSON

DON'T we all get tired of planning and cooking breakfast?

It is so easy to let the first meal of the day get into a rut—the same bacon, eggs, toast and coffee combination morning after morning. Why not try an entirely new idea for breakfast and win the gratitude of vacationing members of your family and guests as well as save yourself a lot of trouble and exasperation?

Every housewife with a family knows how hard it is to get the members of her household to the breakfast table on time when she has other pressing work waiting for her.

Making Breakfast Easy

The answer is—serve a cafeteria breakfast. It is easy to plan, easy to prepare, you don't need extra equipment. Let the members of the family struggle in when they feel like it, help themselves to whatever they like, carry their trays to the breakfast room, dining room or porch and when they are finished wash up their dishes—or if you prefer stack them neatly for you to wash later.

Cafeteria In Kitchen

Set the whole stage in your kitchen. Arrange a pile of trays, cereal bowls, cups, saucers, plates and silver along with colorful paper napkins. On the table you can also have several varieties of packaged breakfast cereals. Cool, crunchy cereals are apt to be the backbone of summer breakfasts, so don't skimp on the supply. They are also inexpensive and one of the best ways to supply variety to individual menus. On the table should also be bread for toasting, jam or jelly and salt and pepper.

Fruit In Variety

In the refrigerator keep two or three kinds of fruit, dewy cold and ready to serve. You can squeeze orange juice or season tomato juice to taste with lemon juice and salt and keep it in a bottle ready to be poured. Cantaloup or honeydew melon can be cut and the sides covered with waxed paper. Sliced pe

LYONS GIRL "KIDNAPER" MAY FACE MANN ACT

MERCED, Aug. 17.—Federal Mann act charges may be filed against Eddie Doyle, 32, under arrest in Florida as the kidnaper of Helen Lyons, 16, here July 5, authorities declared today.

Deputy District Attorney Lorimer B. Harrell is preparing extradition papers for the return of Doyle, an ex-convict, to Merced for prosecution.

Harrell said he was informed by the girl's father, William Lyons of Sacramento, that "full prosecution" was desired.

Doyle Arrested

Dispatches from Florida indicated Doyle planned to fight extradition on the ground he was not in California at the time of the alleged abduction. At first, the youth was reported to have said he would waive extradition. Sought throughout the State, Doyle was arrested in Florida last Saturday.

A week previous, Miss Lyons had been located in a Watsonville rooming house, where Doyle had taken her after they left Merced, she said.

Filch Traced

Authorities claimed they could prove that Doyle was with the girl during the period of her absence, saying they had an accurate check of his various flight to Northern California cities.

Doyle also will be questioned in connection with the asserted activities of a State white slave ring, according to officials.

P. G. E. Company Faces Charges

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—UP.—Excessive rates were claimed as Berkeley and Santa Rosa consumers of Pacific Gas and Electric company natural gas brought their complaints to the state railroad commission today.

C. C. Fisk, Berkeley city engineer, said the company could reduce its stand-by plants in Berkeley and thus reduce expenses and lower rates.

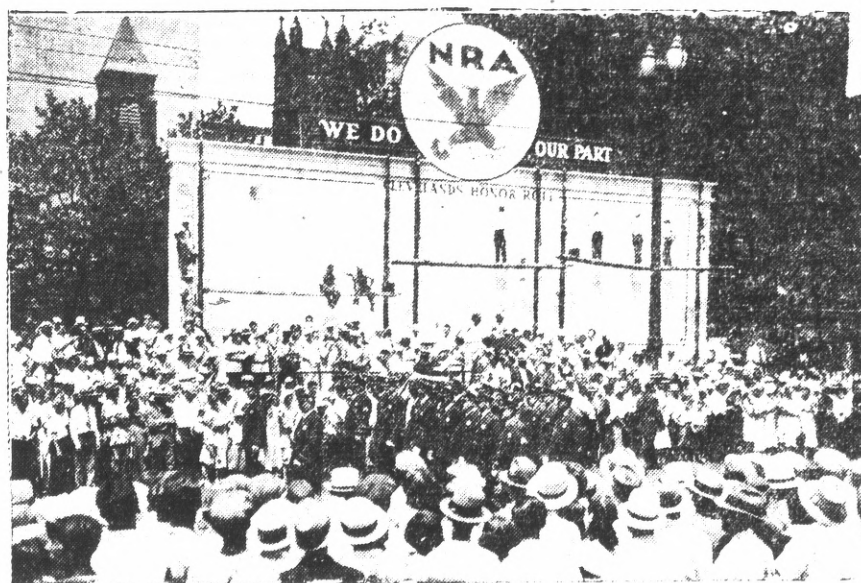

Charles Clifford, Santa Rosa, cited instances of charges he considered excessive.

The commission will continue hearing complaints of consumers and arguments of the company before announcing a decision in the rate fight.

Bay Section In Gay Observance Of Harbor Day

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—UP.—Street and marine parades, massed airplane maneuvers, and boat and swimming races gave San Francisco a holiday appearance today as the bay metropolis led other communities in celebrating a harbor day festival in honor of ships and men of the United States navy.

The celebration was spurred by a desire to have San Francisco designated as the major base for the Pacific fleet.

Sailors from the war vessels anchored in the bay participated in a parade, then thronged the streets to partake of any entertainment they could find. A naval band for commissioned officers concluded the festivities tonight.

Death of Fireman Blamed on Grief

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 17.—Two years ago Fire Captain Gilbert S. Westphal dropped through a burning floor in a box factory blaze. His wife, herself ill, nursed him back to comfort if not complete recovery from injuries.

Death came to Mrs. Westphal, and less than twenty-four hours after her burial, Westphal died. His son says a broken heart was the cause.

Son and Daughter Get Judge's Estate

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—A son and daughter of the late Judge James A. Cooper, former presiding judge of the First District Court of Appeals here, who died July 27, age 80, are the principal beneficiaries of his estate.

The will, admitted to probate yesterday, disposed of property in excess of $10,000.

TEXANS URGED TO VOTE "WET"

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 17.—John N. Garner, vice-president of the United States, today appealed to Texans to vote for repeal of national prohibition at their special election August 26.

The vice president who is at his Exotic home, states his views in a letter to Roy Miller, Texas director of the Democratic national campaign.

He did not commit himself on the proposition of modification of the Texas constitution to permit the sale of 3.2 or even beer, which he submitted to a vote on the same day voters pass on the Eighteenth amendment.

War Is Started On NRA Cheats

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—UP.—Equipped with thousands of complaints against employers accused of breaking their NRA agreements, divisional directors of the national recovery campaign today began a movement against "Blue Eagle chiselers."

"Each complaint will be investigated," said George Creel, NRA administrator for California, Nevada and Utah. "The clamping down will start Monday when letters will be given two weeks in which to correct their errors."

"After agreement violators are given an opportunity to explain, the charges will be turned over to federal prosecuting officials."

Administrator of Sales Tax Named

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 17.—Horton P. Kerrigan of Marysville was appointed by the State Board of Equalization today as sales tax administrator for the Marysville area which includes Butte, Yuba, Sutter, Glenn, Sutter, Colusa Nevada and Placer counties.

Floods Recede In Farm Areas Near Shanghai

SHANGHAI, Aug. 18.—(Friday).—UP.—Danger of further serious summer floods was believed passed today as the water receded in previously swollen rivers and residents of lowlands began to move back to their property.

Authorities said that published reports of 20,000 drownings were "absurd." There was no official estimate of the number of people who lost their lives.

A danger point exists in the city of Hangchow, which is situated in an ancient bed of the Hwangho river in northern Kiangsu province. There was a possibility that the river might return to the old bed, but engineers doubted that such an event would occur.

The Yangtze river was receding steadily, ending the danger to Hangchow points.

Ranch Home Is Destroyed by Fire

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 17.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the large modern ranch home of Joseph Verano on the Guerneville highway, four miles west of this city yesterday. None of the contents were saved. Verano estimated the loss at $16,000 with only $5,000 insurance.

In addition 5,000 gallons of choice wines in the basement of the residence was destroyed. The blaze started while Verano and members of his family were away from home. It was not discovered by neighbors until the building was a mass of flames.

Berkeleyan Hurt As Auto Hits Car

BERKELEY, Aug. 17.—Peter Schultz, 45, 1731 Dwight Way, Berkeley, was treated for injuries to his back at Berkeley General Hospital yesterday afternoon as a result of a collision between his automobile and a north-bound street car at Addison Street and San Pablo avenue.

legally. Anderson refused to give up his nets, for which he had paid $500.

"Curry pulled a revolver and began shooting," said Anderson.

Fifteen Minute Battle
The battle that started there lasted 15 minutes. Bullets splintered the woodwork and sprayed the craft from end to end.

When the fight was over the deputies lay dying and Anderson was alive but badly hurt. Despite his wounds, he steered his boat to San Francisco, a distance of 20 miles, to get medical attention.

The law took over Anton Anderson and sought to try him for murdering the deputies in San Mateo county. But the Grand Jury of that county refused to indict him after talking to a number of witnesses and Anderson went free.

He returned to his cottage. The Ruth Roland was repaid. The bullet holes were plugged. Anderson got out his nets again. But former pals along the waterfront shook their heads.

Laughs at Fears
"The ghosts of the slain men will get him," they said. Anderson only laughed at these prophecies.

"I shot in self-defense," he said. "I was within my rights."

He himself had no fear of intangible things. It was the ropes with his through the long watches of the night, he feared them not. He took no stock in ghost-talk.

Dead in Thwarts
Wednesday night death ran him down. In the dark waters off Point Mendocino Anton Anderson followed the trail taken by Curry and Burke.

No one will ever know what he saw when the Dark Pilot came aboard. The story was written by mute evidence—the sliding skull, its tiller idling, with the dead man in the thwarts—Big Anton—dead.

Coroner Oscar Swanson, announced late last night that there was nothing to show the cause of Anderson's death. The dead man had $75 in his pockets and the boat carried a cargo of fish.

"The ghosts got him," say the fishermen.

An inquest and autopsy will be held today.

Rolph Busy on 2 Extraditions

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 17.—UP.—Extradition of two prisoners to and from California and Arizona occupied the attention of the governor's office today.

Ted Murrel, Los Angeles aviator, will be returned to Los Angeles, to face charges of having aided in the asserted kidnapping of Alfred Tripplett, Jr., from the "Circle Z" ranch last July.

Return of William A. Menegay, held at Prescott, Ariz., to Los Angeles where he is wanted on a statutory charge, was sought by the governor.

Quentin Convict Fails in Escape

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Aug. 17.—UP.—Jack L. Wright, 31, Los Angeles forger, had a few hours of freedom today from a convict road camp near Oroville, prison officials were informed.

Soon after his escape was reported, guards found him in an automobile with an unidentified woman, and returned him to camp.

Hayward Motorists Begin Jail Term

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 17.—Two motorists, both from Hayward and both charged with drunken driving had today begun 25-day County Jail sentences after pleading guilty before Judge A. W. Bruner in Justice Court here.

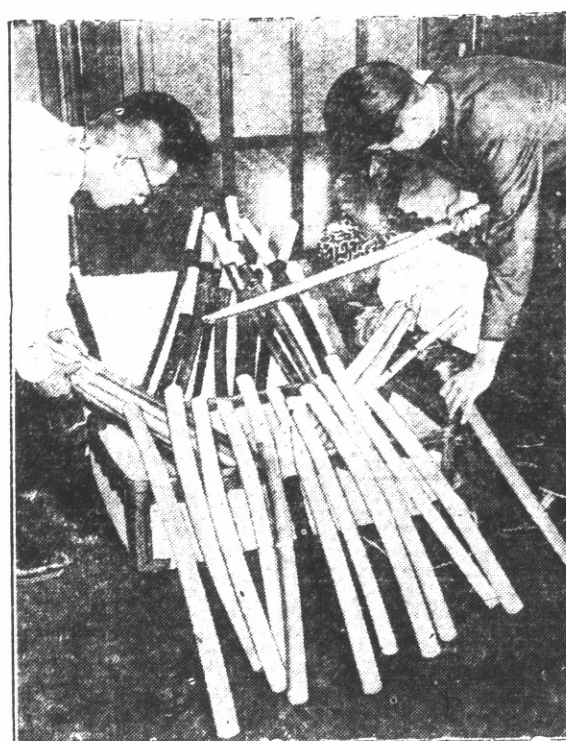

Chris S. Wind, arrested by Officer Jack LeDoux of the local police force, preferred the sentence to the $75 fine offered as an alternative, as did Louis Alves, 328 Atherton Street, Hayward, arrested on Castro Valley cut-off by Officers Anthony Enos and William Hamilton of the highway patrol.

Death-Marked Lad Sought In South

OAKLAND, Aug. 17.—UP.—Search for Jones Wiman, 16, Oakland boy suffering from a heart ailment which may cause his death if he neglects treatment, was extended to southern California today.

He was reported hitch-hiking southward.

THESE swords and other weapons were among the haul recently made by Tokio police during their investigation of Japan's "ultra patriots."

Police Killer Will Die Today

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., Aug. 17.—UP.—Joseph F. Pennington, convicted of killing a Los Angeles policeman, must hang at 10 a.m. tomorrow, unless Governor Rolph intervenes a third time to delay his execution.

The youth has been saved twice before on the eve of his scheduled hanging, but the governor indicated he would not interfere a third time.

Jack Green, his companion in the theater holdup which resulted in the slaying of Police Lieut. Hugh Crowley, is slated to hang Sept. 15.

Green's execution had been delayed to permit the Los Angeles bar association to investigate his case. He seeks commutation of sentence on the ground he merely was present and participating in the robbery, while Regan assertedly was the actual killer.

Another Baritone Takes His Place In Race For Fame

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—UP.—A prospective baritone who already shows promise of developing lusty tones was brought into the world today and tentatively named Michael Edward Tibbett.

He is the seven and one-half pound son of Mrs. Lawrence Tibbett, wife of the noted American baritone.

"He undoubtedly will follow in my profession," said the proud father. "He sounds like an operatic baritone to me. His impressive entrance was made with a clear, high note. He shows no earmarks of a crooner, thank heavens. He's a baritone."

Mrs. Tibbett formerly was Mrs. Jennie Martin Adams Burdard San Francisco society leader. They were married in New York early in 1932.

Scheme to Avoid Sales Tax Nipped

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—UP.—California firms cannot avoid sales tax payments by shipping goods out of the state then returning them, Attorney General U. S. Webb ruled today.

It was charged that power equipment for the Boulder dam development was shipped into Nevada and then returned in greater part to California.

Webb held the sales tax must be paid on the portion of the equipment used in this state.

JUNIOR C. C. PLAYS DANCE

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 17.—Decision on the location of their dance planned for August 26 is expected at tonight's meeting of San Leandro Junior Chamber of Commerce members. President Donald Lucot announced today.

The meeting to be held in the justice courtroom in the Masonic Temple will also feature discussion of the junior chamber's program for advertising the California Flower Festival to be held here next month.

representing the principal cities of the state, and the state commissioner of labor, will constitute the state committee.

"The duties of these state committees are to make certain that every city in the state organizes, and conducts a local Emergency re-employment drive."

City Organization
"Then we come to the city organization. The local committee, as I have said, is organized along strictly military lines. The leader being designated as 'General.' He, in turn, selects three colonels, each of whom is to have charge of a specific part of the campaign."

Miller stated that while the organization work was just now in the preliminary state, it would round out into actual accomplishment with great rapidity. He suggested that the public watch the newspapers with the view of learning every phase of the campaign as it is unfolded.

"There is not an individual or family in the city of Richmond that is not vitally affected by this drive because it will be an important factor in breaking the back-bone of a depression which President Roosevelt so aptly described recently as 'four years of economic hell.'"

He was called into the case because San Mateo county justices participated as counsel in the original trial.

Know Your Firms
Milk Service Is Feature of Life

It was not so many years ago when milk was delivered from door to door in a can and each housewife was measured out her purchase in a measuring cup. The quality of the milk was a thing of question. The percentage of butterfat, the health of the cows and the cleanliness of the dealer was not known. Yet this service was far better than that afforded in smaller communities. In such places you were not delivered milk but went with a pail to the nearest owner of a cow. Today in many small towns this practice is still kept up. Today in Contra Costa county, and especially in the city of Richmond, you may have fresh milk every day. Not only fresh milk but upure milk. A dairy delivery service is one of our most valued assets.

The Golden State Company, Limited, whose local plant is located at San Pablo and Macdonald avenue, is serving the public in many communities from their large modern establishment. They are extensive dealers in Milk, Cream, Butter, Ice Cream, Cheese and other dairy products. This local branch is only one of many plants located throughout the state, and they are perhaps the largest firm of their kind on the Pacific Coast. Throughout Richmond and East Bay cities we see their large trucks delivering fresh milk and cream direct to your door and a special feature of their dairy delivery service is to mothers. Many mothers of so-called bottle-fed babies have found few concerns so painstaking in their service as this one. Every effort is exerted to give the most complete and efficient delivery service possible; especially in the furnishing of their pure milk for babies.

The success of the business of the Golden State Company, Limited, is largely due to their modern and scientific ideas of manufacturing and selling. This fact in itself is a guarantee for the highest quality products. They employ hundreds of people and have recently adopted the NRA program 100 percent. In fact they choose to win or lose in accepting unreservedly the President of the United States proclamation of national recovery—GOLDEN STATE COMPANY LIMITED has joined hands with NRA 100 PERCENT.

The service you receive today from the Golden State Company Limited, is due to their progressive and advanced ideas, and you are cordially invited to inspect their moel plant at any time. The milk you purchase should have your confidence. We recommend their products for the home.
